

ARPA-E ENERGY INNOVATION SUMMIT

April 7-9, 2026 | San Diego, CA

2026 PARTNER OPPORTUNITIES GUIDE

www.ARPAAE-Summit.com

About the Summit

The ARPA-E Energy Innovation Summit is where energy leaders gain early access to groundbreaking energy technologies, define new areas of scientific research, and drive the development of reliable, affordable, secure American-made energy for all. From April 7-9, 2026, in San Diego, California, join a collaborative community of scientists, engineers, and entrepreneurs from around the world who have the knowledge and passion to Drive American Innovation.

We are in the Global Energy Race. Reliable, affordable, and secure American-made energy for all depends on daring thinkers with transformative ideas that can create real-world impact. The Summit brings together some of the brightest minds in energy who are committed to Driving American Innovation. Get ready to:

Be the First: Get early access to America's next generation of disruptive companies and industries and work with them to bring technologies into the marketplace.

Learn from Experts: Engage with energy leaders in academia, industry, investor, and policy.

Explore New Tech: Engage with 400+ next-generation energy technologies on display at the Technology Showcase, featuring innovations in advanced nuclear, AI, computing, fusion, energy storage, grid technologies, and more.

Connect with Partners: Form relationships with key stakeholders that can help make your disruptive energy idea become a reality.

The ARPA-E Energy Innovation Summit was an incredible experience, offering a comprehensive overview of the latest advancements in energy technologies."

—ARPA-E Summit Attendee

2025 Summit Highlights

The 2025 Summit in Washington, D.C. showcased energy thought leaders, transformative technology exhibits, and new opportunities to make connections that help scale innovative technologies from lab to market.

Energy visionaries Secretary of Energy Chris Wright, Mark Papermaster, Dr. Lou Martinez Sancho, Ben Wilson, Jim Gable, and more shared insights on the future of energy innovation.

ARPA-E Program Directors and Fellows delivered Fast Pitches about the technical white spaces ARPA-E may explore next, including AI controls, reimagining refineries, geothermal energy, accelerated computing, and grid enhancements.

At the Technology Showcase – the heart of the Summit – ARPA-E-funded projects shared their disruptive ideas and technologies with industry leaders, investors, and innovators interested in exploring commercialization.

About the Summit Host

The Department of Energy Advanced Research Projects Agency-Energy (ARPA-E) funds and directs the discovery of outlier energy technologies to advance reliable, affordable, and secure American-made energy for all.

ARPA-E projects have the potential to drive critical energy innovation and ensure U.S. technological leadership. We focus on disruptive energy projects that can be meaningfully advanced with a small amount of funding over a defined period of time. Our streamlined awards process enables us to act quickly and catalyze cutting-edge areas of energy research.

I was glad to see all the amazing research and interact with brilliant minds working to solve various issues in the energy sector. As a woman engineer, I was inspired to see a diverse group of researchers from various backgrounds, races and genders being represented. As a graduate student, I was struck by the kindness of the researchers who took the time to talk to me and encourage me.
