HIP Interviews: Sustainability

- Grantees expressed confidence in their ability to sustain at least parts of their programs after the funding ends through alternative funding streams or the integration of the program into their existing models
- Yet, most will need to make modifications or face limitations due to reduced funding, for example:
 - The toolkit will remain on the website, but conference attendance may decrease.
 - Attend fewer in-person conferences and rely more on virtual presentations.
 - Won't be able to provide as much technical assistance for the toolkits.
 - Updating the videos and website will be challenging without funding.
 - Staff will have to take on additional responsibilities.
 - District's focus might shift away from the HCY population.

Findings: Strategies for Overcoming Challenges

- Expanded staff hours with funds instead of hiring.
 - Arranged transportation services for students to access academic intervention offered in summer months.
 - Contracts for community-based organizations to help procure food and other basic needs items into the future.
 - Short-term emergency housing at motels
- “We found that allocating funds for needs families were facing (food, transportation, supplies) helped them in focusing on the items that we had less control over such as supporting with a deposit on a new rental property. The direct funds (through store or other cards) were incredibly helpful to get funds to families fast and removed barriers in other spaces that were hard for families.”*

Conclusions and Next Steps

Preliminary Evaluation Takeaways

- HETAC

- Numerous resources, webinars and trainings
- COE liaisons reported increased confidence due to HETAC support

- HIP

- 20 LEAs created and disseminated toolkits with strategies to identify and support HCY
- Can sustain some components, but most will need to reduce their efforts once funding ends

- ARP-HCY I and II

- As of December 2023, 63% of ARP I and 36% of ARP II funds were spent
 - 56% of survey respondents felt it was very likely their LEA will obligate all funding by 09/24
- More ARP vs. non-ARP LEAs reported higher numbers of HCY identified due to increased capacity to support and better strategies
 - Most ARP survey respondents were concerned about having sufficient resources to support HCY in coming school year

Preliminary Recommendations

- Increase funding and support designated for HCY programming, as well as more flexible funding options
- Continue providing training and technical assistance to LEAs, particularly those just starting to develop their HCY programs or need increased awareness of McKinney-Vento provisions
- Promote collaboration and alignment across agencies and funding streams to serve diverse needs of HCY

ARY-HCY Evaluation Next Steps

- Analyze final HETAC, HIP and ARP-HCY data from 2023-24 school year
- Continue conducting ARP-HCY COE and LEA Liaison Surveys and Interviews
- Collect Youth and Family Surveys
- Submit final evaluation report to CDE in Fall 2024
