Dear Rhode Islanders and Visitors,

After a record-setting snowfall and a long, cold winter, Rhode Island is more than ready to welcome back the sunshine, warm breezes and crashing waves of spring and summer.

We're trading snow shovels for beach blankets and winter gloves for sunglasses — and getting ready to experience everything that makes our Ocean State special.

If you're returning, welcome back.

If this is your first visit, you're in for something unforgettable.

From award-winning restaurants to world-class beaches, from festivals to waterfront views, there's something waiting for you around every corner.

And if you're looking for a place that brings it all together, head to our capital city, Providence. Morning, noon or night, Providence has something for everyone.

Take a gondola ride along the Providence River. Explore the East Side and discover local shops and small businesses that showcase our creativity and character. Enjoy a meal downtown at Track 15 Food Hall or dine along historic Federal Hill.

And don't miss WaterFire, our iconic summer tradition that lights up the river and brings the city together for a truly special experience.

Whatever your plans, we're ready to welcome you.

Sincerely,

Dan McKee, Governor
State of Rhode Island

Dear Friends,

Welcome to Providence, the Creative Capital. As Mayor of this vibrant and diverse city, I am delighted to invite you to experience Providence in the spring and summer, when our city comes alive.

Providence blends historic charm with modern innovation, shaped by generations of creativity and cultural exchange. Our neighborhoods reflect that story through architecture, public art and a culinary scene celebrated for its global influences and local pride. You will quickly see why Providence has been recognized by CNN as one of the Best Towns to Visit in America and by USA Today as one of the 10 Most Walkable Cities for Tourists in America. Wander historic streets, browse boutique shops, relax at sidewalk cafés and enjoy exceptional dining throughout the city.

Spring and summer bring an exciting calendar of festivals, outdoor performances and signature events. WaterFire lights our rivers, parks and plazas fill with music and food, and our waterfront becomes a gathering place for residents and visitors alike. Providence also hosts numerous cultural heritage festivals in our public spaces each summer, reflecting the traditions and communities that shape our city. This season, Providence will host cultural and international activations as part of the statewide Summer of Soccer, celebrating the energy of global soccer and bringing communities together through shared experiences.

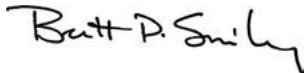

Providence is New England's premier culinary destination, and our hospitality extends well beyond the dining room. From lively nightlife to intimate neighborhood bars, there are countless ways to enjoy an evening out after a day of exploring.

As the Creative Capital, Providence leads with arts and culture. The RISD Museum offers a world-class collection, while our theaters host Broadway tours, concerts and live performances throughout the season, joined by local artists and organizations animating the city all summer long.

As you explore Providence, I hope you feel the warmth, creativity and hospitality of our community. Whether you are here for festivals, food, arts or international celebrations, there is always something happening in Providence.

Thank you for choosing Providence. I hope your visit is filled with memorable experiences that bring you back again soon.

Sincerely,

Brett P. Smiley
39th Mayor of the City of Providence

KICKIN' IT

PROVIDENCE

If you're in town to celebrate one of the world's favorite sports, know that there's plenty to explore between matches. Compact, walkable and teeming with great food and drink, Providence is the kind of place that turns a quick visit into a lasting impression.

DIG INTO THE MOST IMPORTANT MEAL OF THE DAY

Kick off your day with a hearty breakfast or brunch. CAV (cavrestaurant.com) pairs a delicious menu with an eclectic, art-filled atmosphere you won't find anywhere else. Over in the Federal Hill neighborhood, you can sit down for brunch nearly every day of the week (except Wednesdays) at The Patio on Broadway (thepatiori.com). Nearby Nicks on Broadway (nicksonbroadway.com) is a local institution known for a creative, ingredient-driven menu, and boasts James Beard Award-nominated Chef Derek Wagner. If you'd rather begin your day with a riverside view, Waterman Grille (watermangrille.com) has you covered with a robust drink menu featuring fun cocktails and mocktails.

GET OUT THERE & EXPLORE

Book your spot on a Providence River Boat Company (providenceriverboat.com) cruise or aboard one of La Gondola's (gondolari.com) authentic Venetian gondolas for a unique view of the city from the water. Both offer a relaxed, memorable way to spend an hour before or after the action picks up on the pitch. If you'd rather stay on land, the RISD Museum (risdmuseum.org) features a collection of more than 100,000 works of art and design constantly rotating in and out of display. A leisurely stroll through the exhibit halls makes for a great way to spend a morning or rest-day afternoon.

PERK UP YOUR AFTERNOON

When you're looking for a caffeine fix, you won't need to search long. Downtown stalwart Small Point Cafe (smallpointcafe.com) can be counted on to serve quality coffee in a welcoming space, while Caffe Nero (caffenero.com) is the perfect grab-and-go destination. Hope & Main (hopeandmainpvd.org) brings a community-minded energy beyond the cup, offering a variety of goods produced by local makers. And The Landing (instagram.com/thelandingpvd) is the perfect stop for fun mementos to pair with your mocha.

PULL UP A STOOL

Finally, the Capital City's bar scene has something for every fan. Narragansett Beer (narragansettbeer.com) and Trinity Brewhouse (trinitybrewhouse.com) are go-to spots for craft beer lovers. The Malted Barley (themaltedbarley.com) and Murphy's (murphysprovidence.com) bring a lively, welcoming atmosphere perfect for a crowd. Track 15 (track15ri.com) and TIO Grill (110grill.com) round out the options with solid drinks, good food, and plenty of energy.

WaterFire Burns Bright

For more than 30 years, WaterFire has lit up the downtown Providence skyline. This incredible, award-winning fire sculpture installation features nearly 100 bonfires blazing atop the three rivers winding through the heart of the city.

Every lighting uniquely engages the senses of attendees all along the event route. From the crackling flames and the scent of blazing cedar and pine to the flickering firelight and silhouettes of the fire tenders. You'll feel the heat of the flames while swaying to the extraordinary soundtrack.

Full lightings stretch from Waterplace Park to Memorial Park on scheduled evenings throughout the season. Onshore, there's plenty to see and do along the illuminated route. You're encouraged to walk along the RiverWalk or the streets spanning the rivers to enjoy the sights and sounds of street performers, art vendors, and restaurants along the way.

Not every WaterFire evening includes a full lighting. Basin lightings activate the Waterplace Park Basin. Partial lightings can include any section of the river, large and small. Starts at Sunset is a recent type of lighting at the Michael S. Van Leesten Memorial Bridge. Guests are invited to enjoy live performers and vendors on both sides of the bridge.

WaterFire typically takes place on select nights from May through November, from shortly after sunset until midnight. All lightings are free to attend. Be sure to check out waterfire.org for the dates and event updates.

If you're looking for a truly unique way to experience WaterFire, plan ahead and take your seat aboard a guided boat tour. La Gondola (gondolari.com) offers authentic Venetian gondola trips, while Providence River Boat Company (providenceriverboat.com) provides several trip options for all ages.

Celebrate 250 the PVD Way

America is turning 250, with celebrations planned across the country. But in Providence, the history is real, tangible and all around you. Walk the same cobblestone streets as Revolutionary War merchants. Visit the Rhode Island State House, where the Independent Man stands watch over the first colony to declare independence from Britain. Or step inside the John Brown House Museum for a glimpse at colonial life in the capital city.

Don't just celebrate America's 250th, experience it for yourself.

Classic American Fare Served With Local Flair

In a city filled with dining options, it should be no surprise Providence serves up classic American dishes that are far from basic.

Harry's Bar & Burger

Olneyville NY System

For a real bite of the classics, it's tough to beat the protein plus bun equation. Head over to Harry's Bar & Burger (harrysbarburger.com) for a pair of sliders that are small in size but big in flavor or The Patio on Broadway (thepatioi.com) for a juicy prime burger. If chicken's more your style, bite into one of the best Nashville hot chicken sandwiches at Moonshine Alley (moonshinealley.com). And whether or not you think a hot dog is a sandwich, just know the menu at Wally's Wieners (wallysprovidence.com) is filled with classic and unique topping combinations.

For a true Rhode Island take on the hot dog, you can't skip an Olneyville New York System (olneyvillenewyorksystem.com) hot wiener. Just be sure not to call it a hot dog when ordering! This local staple features a pork and veal frank served in a steamed bun topped with meat sauce, yellow mustard, diced onions and a dusting of celery salt. Best paired with an ice-cold glass of coffee milk, a Rhode Island classic made with milk and sweetened, coffee-flavored syrup.

The Patio

Hemenway's

Dune Brothers

Gregg's

What's a visit to the Ocean State without catching at least one seafood dish? For an upscale experience, Hemenway's Restaurant (hemenwaysrestaurant.com) and Ten Prime Steak & Sushi (tenprimesteakandsushi.com) are longtime anchors of the city's dining scene, and Ten Prime Seafood (tenprimeseafood.com) is one of the city's newest seafood restaurants. Expect imaginative plates, delicious cocktails and exceptional service.

If you'd prefer something more casual, Dune Brothers (dunebrothers.com) serves up excellent lobster rolls from two city locations, while Providence Oyster Bar (provoysterbar.com) is the place to be for some of the freshest oysters on the half shell.

Every great American food crawl deserves a proper finish, and Gregg's (greggsusa.com) delivers with one of the best apple pies you'll find anywhere. A Providence institution for decades, it's the kind of dessert that earns its own spot on any foodie itinerary.

Neighborhood Spotlight: Downtown

Downtown Providence doesn't sit still. It's a walkable, creative, ever-evolving neighborhood where public art, world-class performances, and an independent spirit share the same few blocks.

The Michael S. Van Leesten Memorial Bridge (also called the Providence River Pedestrian Bridge) is more than a pretty crossing with an incredible view of the skyline. It's the perfect starting point for a downtown exploration. You're steps away from fun open-air activities within 195 District Park and just a quick walk from the heart of the city.

Westminster Street is the backbone of downtown Providence, lined with independent boutiques, local makers, and acclaimed restaurants that reflect the neighborhood's creative character. It's the kind of street where every storefront has a story. You won't just shop or dine along this street. You'll discover some of the city's best gems.

Downtown Providence doubles as one of the best free art experiences in New England. The neighborhood is dense with murals and public installations, the work of a thriving local arts community. This community comes alive and welcomes thousands of newcomers during signature events like WaterFire (waterfire.org) and PVDFest (pvdffest.com). Keep your eyes up as you stroll the city's streets, because you never know where you'll catch a glimpse of unexpected artwork.

Providence's performing arts scene punches well above its weight for a city its size. The Providence Performing Arts Center (ppacri.org) annually draws major Broadway touring productions to its beautifully restored theater. Trinity Rep (trinityrep.com) is one of the most respected regional theater companies in the country. And AS220 (as220.org) anchors the experimental and community-rooted end of the spectrum, offering live performances, gallery space, and a pulse on Providence's creative underground.

The Providence Rink (theprovidencerink.com) brings roller skating and roller disco to the center of downtown. Plan a visit here to hit the rink or simply people watch. Or, if it's Sunday, head back toward the pedestrian bridge for The Providence Flea (providenceflea.com). This beloved outdoor market pops up weekly as a community gathering point with local vendors, food and energy that's hard to beat.

Downtown Providence rewards the unhurried visitor. Slow down, turn a corner you haven't tried, and let the city surprise you.

A young child with brown hair, wearing a yellow apron over a light-colored long-sleeved shirt, is sitting at a water play exhibit. The child is holding a yellow plastic pitcher and pouring water into a large, shallow white basin. In the background, there are wooden structures and a large green funnel-shaped water feature. The scene is brightly lit, suggesting an indoor or well-lit outdoor environment.
